Test Author

14th January 2025

1 Testing In-Text Citations

Here we test a standard parenthetical citation (Smith, Jones and Brown 2023). We can also do an in-text citation where March (1991) is part of the sentence.

Multiple citations can be combined (Chen and Wong 2022; Johnson 2024; Kellogg, Valentine and Christin 2020).

2 Testing Philosophical Citations

The philosophical framework draws on Heidegger (1977)’s concept of technology, which is further developed in Feenberg (2019)’s critical theory. This connects to what Zuboff (2019) terms “surveillance capitalism.”

Recent work by Crawford (2021) on AI ethics builds on earlier frameworks (Floridi 2019; Coeckelbergh 2020).

3 Testing Citation Formatting

Testing different citation formats:

- Standard citation: (Parker, Van Alstyne and Choudary 2016)
- Author as noun: As Hansen (1999) argues...
- Multiple authors: (Hardt and Negri 2017; Harvey 2018; Lapavitsas 2013)
- With page numbers: (Moore and Robinson 2016, p. 84)
- With prefix: (see Stiegler 2018)
